Walt Disney

STRENGTHS

Leadership

I am a Commander (ENTJ-A Myers-Briggs test). I'm an Analyst adept at People

Considering the strengths of each team member to achieve team goals is my leadership philosophy.

Communication

My language skills and ability to explain complex concepts to a diverse range of people help me to succeed in leadership roles.

Object-oriented software design

I use Python or Ruby to architect new software projects, but these principles are applicable to any similar language like lava or C.

Constant learner

I never stop learning the cutting-edge principles in my field. I also learn by doing -- the more bugs in the code, the more opportunities to learn to be better at building software.
